

“State Like These” by Olga Ermol

A CHROMATIC PASSAGE THROUGH EMOTIONAL STATES

Created for Lisbon by Design, States Like These transforms the entrance corridor of Palácio Gomes Freire into a sequence of shifting emotional atmospheres. Installed as a progression, the works move from heightened saturation toward lighter, calmer states as the viewer approaches the fair.

Each composition draws from simple emotional experiences — the heat of a late summer sunset, smell of pine and salt in the warm evening air, joy of a sun-filled bedroom in the morning, or the feeling of wanting a moment to last a while longer.

Rather than illustrating fixed memories, the series remains intentionally open, inviting viewers to move through the space and find their own associations within it.

ALL AT ONCE

JUST A WHILE LONGER

A QUIET FULLNESS

YOU WERE THERE

STILL DREAMING

BEFORE THE WORLD WAKES
